Early Life and Influences

Edward Hopper was born on July 22, 1882, in Nyack, New York. His early years were spent in a small town, where he developed a deep appreciation for the beauty of the natural world. At the age of 18, Hopper moved to New York City to study art at the New York School of Art. There, he studied under leading artists such as Robert Henri and John Sloan, who encouraged him to develop his独自の style.

Artistic Style and Themes

Hopper is best known for his paintings of urban and rural landscapes. His paintings are often characterized by their stillness and silence, and they often depict solitary figures lost in thought. Hopper's work also explores themes of loneliness, alienation, and the search for human connection.

Famous Works

- Nighthawks (1942): One of Hopper's most iconic paintings, Nighthawks depicts four people sitting at a late-night diner. The painting is a powerful evocation of urban loneliness and alienation.
- House by the Railroad (1925): This painting depicts a solitary house next to a railroad track. The painting is a haunting and evocative portrayal of the American landscape.
- Gas (1940): This painting depicts a gas station at night. The painting is a powerful and atmospheric work that captures the feeling of isolation and loneliness.
