

One Voice Rising: The Extraordinary Life of Clifford Duncan

One Voice Rising is the definitive biography of Clifford Duncan, a pioneering civil rights activist who played a pivotal role in the desegregation of Little Rock Central High School. Born in 1936 in rural Arkansas, Duncan grew up in a segregated society where African Americans were denied basic rights and opportunities. Despite the challenges he faced, Duncan was a bright and determined young man who dreamed of a better future for his people.

In 1957, Duncan was one of nine African American students who were chosen to attend Little Rock Central High School, an all-white school. The students' enrollment sparked a national crisis, and they faced fierce resistance from white supremacists who were determined to keep the school segregated. Duncan and his fellow students were met with violence, threats, and intimidation, but they refused to be deterred.
