Fallujah, Iraq, was the deadliest city in the Iraq War. From 2004 to 2008, the city was a stronghold for Iraqi insurgents, and the US Marines who fought there faced some of the most intense combat of the war.

The Firsthand Story of US Marines in Iraq's Deadliest City is the gripping true story of the Marines who fought in Fallujah. The book is based on interviews with more than 100 Marines, as well as the author's own experiences as a Marine in Iraq.

The book provides a vivid account of the fighting in Fallujah, from the initial invasion in 2004 to the final battle in 2008. The Marines who fought in Fallujah faced a determined and resourceful enemy, and they often had to fight for every inch of ground. The book also tells the story of the human cost of the war, as the Marines witnessed the death and suffering of their friends and comrades.

The Firsthand Story of US Marines in Iraq's Deadliest City is a powerful and moving account of the Iraq War. The book is a tribute to the bravery and sacrifice of the Marines who fought in Fallujah, and it is a must-read for anyone who wants to understand the true cost of war.
